Prince Clover tries to hide from the camera!

Care for creatures! Our school community loves animals. God created different types of animals, and we love them all. Because we love them, we need to show affection too!

Here are ways you can show your pet lots of affection. Make sure to have a little play time, and to give as much attention as you can.

Everyone loves food so make sure your pet gets the healthy food they need to grow and be healthy. Since you'll want to take care of their internal health, it is also a good idea to go to the vet for a check-up.

Though animals are not the same as humans, we still need to treat them with respect, love, and care. Remember that God loves his creation.

Music Review: "Revolution" by Kirk Franklin

I like this song because it is upbeat and it shows that you can have a good beat but still be praising the Lord. This song is called Revolution because this album and the previous album have revolutionized Gospel music for the black community.

FCS SCHOOL LIFE

Annual Spring Concert!

For this edition, we've interviewed students about Flushing Christian School's spring concert. This concert took place on April 12th (Tuesday) at 7:15pm.

Fun Fact: This is the first concert after 2 years that is finally LIVE! Thank the Lord for keeping FCS strong and safe.

Q: What did you like about the concert?

- A. I liked Mrs. Peña singing "Via Dolorosa"
- B. When Daniel and Winston played "Flight of the Bumblebee"
- C. The elementary singing "God's Not Dead"

Q: What did you do well?

- A. I stood and spoke up clearly for my speaking part.
- B. I played my instrument well.

Q: What would you change about the concert?

- A. Not being forgotten in the concert and not getting skipped like in practice
  - B. I would do more guitar songs.
  - C. It would have been helpful to practice our drama more.

PERSONAL SPOTLIGHT

Meet the Navigators: Natanel Rozic, Victor Jimenez, Alex Jun and Jeremiah Pierre, four kids who took an amazing opportunity to compete in the Nat Geo competition. In 2017, Ms. Nelson offered the students a chance to join a competition called the "National Geographic Challenge." So they got started, their team was called the Navigators, and together they invented a machine that picked up micro plastics from the Hudson river.

Natanel Rozic led the group. He gave everyone their jobs and did research. Victor Jimenez designed the model, Alex Jun did the non-visuals for the project and mapped out the Hudson River and Jeremiah Pierre added his own research. As a result of their hard work, they won first place in the national competition.

During the summer of 2020 or 2021 the Navigators actually tested their invention in the Hudson river and tested the water. This showed the team that their invention would work in the real world. Sadly, their momentum slowed when the person who had led the NatGeo challenge no longer filled that role and when the COVID pandemic paused their plans. Through all of this, though, they were still able to enjoy the memories they have of participating in the NatGeo challenge together.

ART ELECTIVE

In Art Elective, students get a chance to express their creativity. Some paint galaxies. Some sketch wildlife. Art Elective is a safe space where amateur artists and those who just want to have fun can let their creative juices flow.

Art Elective has an enrollment of 14 students. Over half of the students are just here to have a good time. Taught and guided by Ms. Lee, students work with different materials like paint, sketching pencils, clay, and oil pastels to create pieces of art they will cherish for a lifetime. They make lasting memories that will stay with them forever. It is a great diversion from the rigorous academics of FCS.
